West Midlands TPS & CIHT Christmas Social 2011!!!

Event Location:

Macdonald Burlington Hotel
Burlington Arcade, 126 New Street,
Birmingham B2 4JQ

Following on from the fun and laughter of last year's Christmas Social event, the West Midlands branches of the Transport Planning Society (TPS) and Chartered Institution of Highways & Transportation (CIHT) have once again joined forces to celebrate the successes of 2011.

This event brings you the second instalment of "Transport Nudge: Travel Planning and Smart Technology in the West Midlands" and will be led by David Bull from Birmingham City Council and Alan Bailes from TPI / Amey.

Buffet and drinks to join in with the festive cheer with your peers!

The event will be a workshop style event as we want to know what your views are on promoting an evolution in information provision of services. To help you focus and to get the festive fun and merriness underway a buffet and drinks will be available throughout the evening.

Free for entry for members!

This Christmas event has been organised to show the societies appreciation to the members who have supported both the TPS and CIHT making it possible to hold some great events this year. We hope you can join us with the celebrations on the night and mark the end of another successful year! This will also be a fantastic opportunity to socialise and network with your peers from across the transportation profession.

This event is free for TPS and CIHT members and £5 for non-members
Please register your attendance via email in advance as spaces are strictly limited and state whether you are a TPS / CIHT member or a non member

Please confirm your attendance by return of email to
