The TPS Board invite you to celebrate Christmas by enjoying a glass of wine or two and hearing from our special guest Steve Norris.

Steve is a former Minister for Transport and well known for his progressive views on transport policy. He has recently been made chairman of the new independent body which will scrutinise and advise on the Government's changes to major infrastructure planning, including transport. He will talk to us about this, and his current thoughts on how transport is changing in the current economic climate.

An opportunity to learn, network and celebrate!
