Are you a young professional working in transport or a related discipline?
Are you graduating soon and hoping to start a career in transport?

If your answer is yes to any of the questions above, this event is for you! This event will be an informal evening and will provide a relaxed platform to meet lots of new people and create your own network of transport professionals. You might be looking to share ideas, find out more about transport, or simply want to meet and connect with other like-minded individuals.

There will be a welcome drink for everyone on arrival.

*Everyone welcome***

Even though promoted as an event for young professionals, everyone is welcome – whether you have been working in the industry for 3 or 30 years. This will give our young professionals the chance not only to meet those at a similar stage in their careers but also enable them to draw on the experience of those of you who are already established in the profession.

*What can we do for you?***

This event will also be your opportunity to tell us what we as TPS can do for you as young professionals. If you have any great ideas for events or initiatives but can't make it on the day, please put them in an e-mail to Alina Tuerk (alina.tuerk@mottmac.com).

No need to book in advance, just turn up on the night. However if you are able to drop the organiser for your location an e-mail in advance that would help us knowing what size area to book.
